

College of DuPage Wins 3rd Straight National Golf Title

COLLEGE OF DuPAGE - 1998 NJCAA Division III Golf Champions

A new dynasty may have been established at the National Junior College Athletic Association's Division III Golf Championship with the College of DuPage (IL) winning their third straight national title. DuPage never looked back from the first round as they led the entire tournament with each day's scores increasing their lead. The final scores gave DuPage a 61-stroke lead over Monroe Community College (NY) and Penn State University-Beaver Campus (PA).

With a tie for second place, Monroe and Penn State had to play a sudden death playoff in which Monroe's team won by one shot after the first hole. Finishing in fourth place was the host institution, Louisburg College.

For National Medalist honors, Jason Hyatt, DuPage, had a final round 73 to upset the three-day leader Chad Smith from Prince George's Community College (MD) by one shot with a four-day total of 303 (76,79,75,73). Smith's 304 (75,75,73,81) kept him in position as runner-up.

Overall, the four days of competition saw extremely hot and humid conditions the first two days, followed by one day of milder conditions with threatening weather, and a final day with severe thunderstorm warnings, heavy rain, and a storm delay.
